Alexandra D'Orzo can't believe her parents are forcing her to marry New York gangster Marco Romano. Marco is a violent man, and Alexandra knows a life with him would be miserable. Desperate, she seeks help from her brother, who contacts Mrs. Maisy's mail order bride service. Mrs. Maisy sets Alexandra up with a rancher in New Mexico Territory and Alexandra makes hasty preparations for departure. But just as Alexandra thinks she's safe on the train as it pulls away ... Marco appears at her window, shouting that he will find her, no matter where she flies. Lawrence Wilkinson has been waiting his whole life to inherit his family's ranch in Nueva Esperanza, New Mexico Territory. When his grandfather dies, he's expecting to take over the property management immediately, but there's a catch: to become the ranch's owner, Lawrence needs to get married in the next thirty days. Thank goodness Mrs. Maisy has a bride from New York who is eager to travel out West! It's just too bad that same bride, who Lawrence is instantly smitten with, turns out to have a gangster trailing her ... Hannah Bartholomew doesn't have time to mourn her father's recent death when she's too busy selling all her possessions to pay back his gambling debts. But once everything is sold, Hannah is left with no money to her name and at a loss for what to do. That is, until someone in her hometown of Portland, Maine, suggests she offer herself as a mail order bride. Hannah tells a few fibs to her potential husband, apple farmer Richard Maisy, and is delighted when he invites her to come out west and be his bride. But it turns out that Richard wasn't quite expecting a woman like Hannah to show up on his doorstep. -Will Hannah's lies come back to bite her? -Are her father's debts truly paid up? -Can Hannah find a place amongst Richard's huge family of rowdy brothers, sisters-in-law, and energetic nieces and nephews? All Sadie had ever known, or ever wanted to know, was being a baker. She'd been raised to bake in her parents' bakery, and after their deaths, she had planned to carry on the family tradition. Devastated to find out she was losing her family's business, she needed something to do to support herself. When she received a letter from her twin sister's husband in Arizona Territory, suggesting she come out to be the bride of his best friend who was opening a restaurant, it seemed like the perfect solution to her problems. Tripp had gone to the best culinary school in the country, and he knew exactly how to create the perfect meal. He spent hours and hours coming up with just the right menu for his restaurant, only to be told he couldn't get a loan for it unless he married. When his best friend came up with the solution of sending for his baker sister-in-law, it only made sense. Her ideas of the perfect menu were different than his, though. Would the two be able to stay together long enough to convince the bank he was a good risk? Would Sadie be able to convince Tripp that the two of them belonged together after all?

Caroline Carson is expecting her trip to Montana to be a short one, just until her father feels it's safe for her to return to Philadelphia after being robbed in broad daylight. Imagine her surprise when she gets off the train and learns she isn't visiting her aunt, but rather is set to marry a rancher! Logan Gillespie has been waiting weeks to meet his bride, but all his dreams of family life fly out the window when the woman in question bursts into tears at his presence. It's going to be an awkward time trying to get Caroline to appreciate the appeal of the cattle ranching lifestyle, but maybe with a little help from Logan's family, she'll see that maybe the West does have something to offer her. -Will Caroline ever feel comfortable around Logan? -Will Logan's past come back to bite him, ruining his chances with Caroline? -Will Caroline's family get in the way of her happiness?
